

Who Decides: Enduring Powers of Attorney, Welfare Guardians, Property Managers & Supported Decision Making Whangārei – October & November 2021

ADL and Tiaho Trust invite you to register for the Who Decides Sessions. This is an introductory programme designed for Disabled and Deaf People, Whānau, and staff from disability organisations and providers.

The aim of the session is to significantly unpack the law around decision making so it is easy to understand. This session will cover:

- What I can do to make sure the people I trust support me in my decision making.
- What happens if I can't make all my decisions.
- What my rights are if other people are involved in making decisions for me.

Session Details

Tuesday 19 October, 10am to 12.30pm.

Covid-19 Alert Levels

Given the current situation with Covid-19 Alert Levels, we will be monitoring government announcements as we get closer to the Who Decides session dates. As necessary, we will advise people who have registered of any changes to these sessions, their locations and/or the Covid-19 requirements we will have in place around these events.

ADL

ADL is the only community law centre (CLC) in Aotearoa New Zealand that works with people around their disability related legal issues. They also run disability related legal education within the community.
